Steven Wirth

Steven Wirth is the Executive Director of the Centre for Contemplative Dialogue. Over the course of the last seven years, diverse leaders from across Canada, the U.S. and Australia, have participated in this work, and thousands have experienced its benefits in meetings, retreats, and the lives of organizations.

His practice of facilitating contemplative dialogue, notably as lead facilitator for the International Thomas Merton Retreat 2000 & 2002, has involved Steve in large, small, and multi-lingual group situations. The International Thomas Merton Retreats brought together international political and religious leaders, artists and activists, for contemplative dialogue. Steve has participated and facilitated a small group for the U.S. Congressional Civil Rights Pilgrimage to Alabama, and has been the keynote speaker and facilitator for Spiritual Directors International's annual Symposium on three occasions.
